Early years Foundation Stage: In EYFS the framework is organised across 7 areas of learning rather than subject areas. As part of this document we have planned how the skills taught across EYFS feed into the national curriculum and which statements from the 2020 Development Matters are prerequisite skills for writing within the National Curriculum. KS1 and KS2: In KS1 and KS2 the English writing curriculum has been designed to cover all of the skills, knowledge and understanding as set out in the National Curriculum. The National Curriculum states that 'a high-quality education in English will teach pupils to speak and write fluently so that they can communicate their ideas and emotions to others, and through their reading and listening, others can communicate with them. To ensure that pupils develop a secure knowledge that they can build on, our English curriculum has been mapped out using specific disciplines. When covering each of these strands, the content will be carefully organised by each year group through our subject overview. Content knowledge, vocabulary and skills will then be planned for at a greater level of detail in the Year group Frameworks. English is delivered through subject specific teaching organised into blocks under a theme. Meaningful links with other subjects are made to strengthen connections and understanding for pupils.	The Early years Foundation Stage (EYFS) follows the 'Development Matters' in the EYFS guidance. In EYFS Writing is taught as part of 'Literacy' through 'Writing' and will be seen as part of the continuous and adult lead provision across the classroom, not as a discrete subject. All children in Reception, KS1 and, where necessary, KS2 have daily phonics sessions in small ability groups where they participate in speaking, listening, spelling, reading and writing activities that are matched to their current needs. We teach Phonics using a synthetic phonics programme called 'Read Write Inc' produced by Ruth Miskin. Our staff teach learners the relationship between sounds and the written spelling patterns, or graphemes, which represent them. From Year 2 (Term 2), when children are ready to move off the WRI programme, writing is taught as a discrete subject every day to allow time to embed skills in the subject. In KS2, Writing is taught as a discrete subject every day to allow time to embed skills in the subject. All learning will start by revisiting prior knowledge. This will be scaffolded to support children to recall previous learning and make connections. Staff will model explicitly the subject-specific vocabulary, knowledge and skills relevant to the learning to allow them to integrate new knowledge into larger concepts. Learning will be supported through the use of knowledge organisers that provide children with scaffolding that supports them to retain new facts and vocabulary in their long-term memory. Knowledge organisers are used for pre-teaching, to support home learning and also as a part of daily review.	Impact is measured through regular learning walks, lesson visits, work scrutiny and pupil voice. Work will show that a range of topics are being covered as well as progression across each unit of work in every year group and across year groups. Children will be able to talk about the skills and knowledge they have acquired, through pupil voice, and will be engaged in lessons and want to find out more. Teachers will use Assessment for Learning to ensure all lessons are relevant and will help to plan for next steps. Star reading is also used at the end of each term to formally assess children progress. Subject coordinators will be given regular time to ensure resources are kept up to date, to monitor their subject across the school, create action plans and impact reports and to provide subject feedback to SLT as appropriate.

Breadth of study Key Stage 1 and Key Stage 2:

The programmes of study for writing at key stages 1 and 2 consist of 2 dimensions (similar to that of reading):

- transcription (spelling and handwriting)
- composition (articulating ideas and structuring them in speech and writing)

It is essential that teaching develops pupils' competence in these 2 dimensions. In addition, pupils should be taught how to plan, revise and evaluate their writing. These aspects of writing have been incorporated into the programmes of study for composition.

Writing down ideas fluently depends on effective transcription: that is, on spelling quickly and accurately through knowing the relationship between sounds and letters (phonics) and understanding the morphology (word structure) and orthography (spelling structure) of words. Effective composition involves articulating and communicating ideas, and then organising them coherently for a reader. This requires clarity, awareness of the audience, purpose and context, and an increasingly wide knowledge of vocabulary and grammar. Writing also depends on fluent, legible and, eventually, speedy handwriting.

Spelling, vocabulary, grammar, punctuation and glossary

Opportunities for teachers to enhance pupils' vocabulary arise naturally from their reading and writing. As vocabulary increases, teachers should show pupils how to understand the relationships between words, how to understand nuances in meaning, and how to develop their understanding of, and ability to use, figurative language. They should also teach pupils how to work out and clarify the meanings of unknown words and words with more than 1 meaning. References to developing pupils' vocabulary are also included in the appendices.

Pupils should be taught to control their speaking and writing consciously and to use Standard English. They should be taught to use the elements of spelling, grammar, punctuation and 'language about language' listed. This is not intended to constrain or restrict teachers' creativity, but simply to provide the structure on which they can construct exciting lessons. A non-statutory glossary is provided for teachers.

Throughout the programmes of study, teachers should teach pupils the vocabulary they need to discuss their reading, writing and spoken language. It is important that pupils learn the correct grammatical terms in English and that these terms are integrated within teaching
